

---

Candidates are focusing on a lot of issues – think immigration, tax reform, etc. – but one issue that isn't getting much attention is the role of energy to our nation's economy. The U.S. is now a dominant force in oil production and refining capacity. What changes with a new president – what are some of the key challenges that the new president will face and how will his/her beliefs impact policy? What are the political implications?

Print as PDF: