WASHINGTON, D.C. – The American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers (AFPM), a national trade association representing more than 97 percent of U.S. refiners and the majority of petrochemical manufacturers, strongly supports regulatory reform that enhances the transparency, accountability, and efficacy of federal regulations.

AFPM Letter to House Leadership on Regulatory Reform

Print as PDF:

Topics

Regulatory Reform

Tags

Energy Regulations

Regulatory Reform