WASHINGTON, D.C. – “It’s shameful that Administrator Pruitt and Secretary Perdue are considering recommending to the President that he renege on his promise to find a ‘win-win’ solution to the RFS that works for farmers, refinery workers and, most importantly, consumers.

“This backroom deal would flat out betray consumers, labor and refinery workers in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and dozens of other states that helped elect this President. To say that we would be livid were this deal to move forward would be a gross understatement.”

Print as PDF:

Topics

Fuel Products

Economic Benefits

Tags

Renewable Fuel Standard (RFS)

Biofuels